

Trilliant Named to List of Greentech Media Top 50 Startups

GTM 50 Recognizes Trilliant as a Leading Smart Grid Company

Redwood City, CA (March 12, 2010) — Trilliant Incorporated, a leader in delivering Smart Grid solutions that enhance energy efficiency, utility operations, and renewable resource integration, announced today it has been named to the GTM 50, the Top 50 Greentech Startups, by Greentech Media.

Greentech Media initially evaluated more than 500 companies. Greentech Media's energy analysts, reporters and editors then narrowed the list to 50 and identified the companies that they believe will make the most impact in the energy and greentech space. Trilliant was one of 11 companies highlighted in the Smart Grid and EV Infrastructure category.

"Trilliant is honored to be recognized by Greentech Media as one of the leading Smart Grid companies," said Andy White, President and CEO of Trilliant. "This distinction is another acknowledgement in the long list of accolades that Trilliant has received for its leadership in the Smart Grid space."

"Trilliant is in good company with the venture-backed firms listed in the GTM 50, the Top 50 Greentech Start-Ups," said David Leeds, Smart Grid analyst with Greentech Media Research. "With their track record in Ontario, combined with the wireless broadband implications of their acquisition of SkyPilot in 2009, Trilliant is a company to watch in the Smart Grid space."
